

1

a)

A house-shaped grid for addition. The roof contains the equation $= 9$. The main body of the house is a vertical rectangle divided into seven horizontal sections. Each section contains a plus sign $+$ in the center, with a dashed line above and below it for writing numbers.

b)

A house-shaped grid for addition. The roof contains the equation $= 11$. The main body of the house is a vertical rectangle divided into seven horizontal sections. Each section contains a plus sign $+$ in the center, with a dashed line above and below it for writing numbers.

2

a)

A house-shaped grid for addition. The roof contains the equation $= 15$. The main body of the house is a vertical rectangle divided into seven horizontal sections. Each section contains a plus sign $+$ in the center, with a dashed line above and below it for writing numbers.

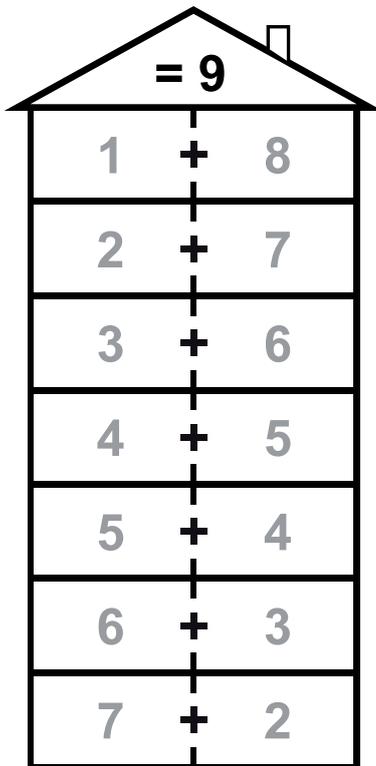

b)

A house-shaped grid for addition. The roof contains the equation $= 18$. The main body of the house is a vertical rectangle divided into seven horizontal sections. Each section contains a plus sign $+$ in the center, with a dashed line above and below it for writing numbers.

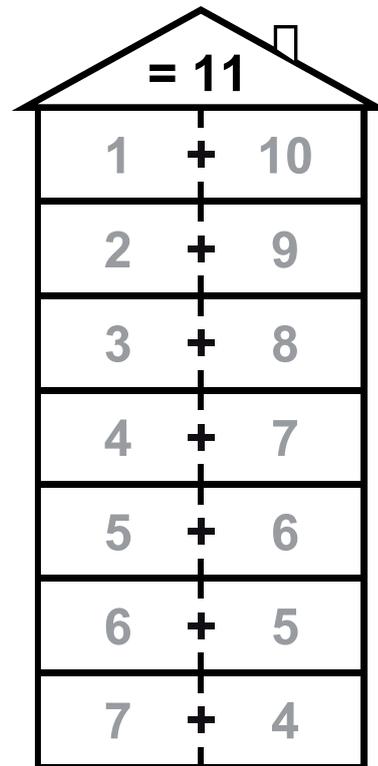

①

a)

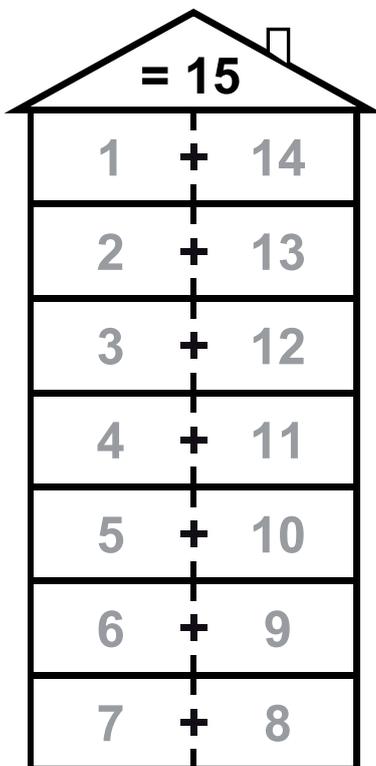

b)

②

a)

b)

